

Knowledge-driven Solutions for Dairy & Food Industries

Market Intelligence

For over 15 years, OzScientific has been publishing its market intelligence newsletter FUNCTIONAL FOODS WEEKLY!

A sample issue is available from our website

<https://ozscientific.com/products/functional-foods-weekly/>

Publishing this newsletter means that we are always on top of business and market intelligence, market and consumer trends, regulations and labelling, new product launches, nutrition and health benefits, and international food innovation conferences.

Customised market intelligence

OzScientific also offers customised market intelligence for your new product development project. Together with our product development and food technology capabilities in our Hoppers Crossing factory, we can provide a seamless translation of competitive ideas into new products!
